Campground proposed by Rt. 2 bridge

By ALISON ALOISIO

A proposal for a 94-site campground by the Androscoggin River, near Bethel's Route 2 bridge, was presented to the Bethel Planning Board last week.

The campground would attract "a cross section of campers, from those who want a wilderness experience on an island to those who want full hookups including cable TV and tax lines," in the words of owner Jeff Parsons of Bethel Outdoor Adventures.

The proposal, known as the Riverside Campground and Park, also calls for a park that would provide access to the river for canoeing, rowing, kayaking, fishing and other activities.

The development would also include a building for an outdoor outfitting business. It would house retail space as well as a campground office, showers and laundry facility, a restaurant, recreation hall and upstairs apartments.

Might be expanded to include campsites on Hastings Island

Dormitory facilities might be added eventually, extending the recreation season into the winter, Parsons said.

He would like his site to serve ultimately as a center for coordinating all kinds of outdoor recreational activities -- possibly including hiking, climbing, mountain biking, snowmobiling and hunting -- in the Bethel area.

Parsons said while his business would not offer all those activities, it could serve as a central place from which people could make arrangements or reservations.

"Right now, there's no one place people can go," he said.

Parsons is submitting his plan for the 10.8-acre site in two phases.

His goal for this camping season is to renovate and open the campground that formerly existed on the property. That would mean 20 sites with hookups, and five tent-only sites. There are two existing buildings in place.

Parsons would also like to set up 10 wilderness sites on nearby Hastings Island. But because the island is in a resource protection area, a variance would be required.

The island is owned by Roberta Moccicola of Mechanic Falls, Parsons said. He said he has an option to purchase it, and currently has permission to use it.

Moccicola was also the previous owner of Parsons' property, Parsons said she told him the last time the site had been a functioning campground was about five or six years ago.

The more extensive plans for the campground would be part of Phase 2.

Hearing planned

Board chairman Don Feeney said a public hearing will be scheduled because of the magnitude of the project.

A traffic study is also a possibility. Board members cited concerns about additional vehicles and trailers turning off and entering Route 2 in an already congested area.

Shoreland zoning and Department of Environmental Protection requirements must also be met, such as in the case of boat access to the river.

And trails group wants to build canoe ramp at Davis Park

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Area Trails Group has agreed to provide the labor and expertise for establishing a public canoe-landing ramp at Davis Park and to maintain the site for a year -- if the town will agree to take responsibility for maintaining the site after the first year, and to put more effort into the upkeep of Davis Park itself.

But members of the trails group are not optimistic the town selectmen will agree to the proposal.

The trails group is an informal coalition of recreation-related business owners, outdoor and environmental organizations and local trail users. The group has been meeting every month or two for the past two years to try to push along projects such as the Bethel Station pathway and a bike path from Bethel to Sunday River.

Other recent items on its agenda include helping to support June's Androscoggin River Source to the Sea Canoe Trip, and seeking designation for Bethel as a "Trails Town USA."

The possibility of a boat ramp at Davis Park has been discussed for a number of years, but Marcel Polak, Upper Androscoggin Valley field director for the Appalachian Mountain Club, told the trails group last week that state money is now available to pay for the construction of such sites.

But to get the funding, he said, local towns or organizations must agree to provide the expertise and labor for the construction of the site.

Safe Hangouts: a scene for young teens

By ALISON ALOISIO

"Weekends can be pretty boring. You wonder why you can't wait for the weekend to come."

That's how Telstar eighth-grader Spencer Glover describes the teen entertainment scene in the Bethel area. It's no wonder Glover and his peers welcome the Safe Hangouts program.

Safe Hangouts offers kids everything from white-water rafting trips to pizza and swimming parties.

Middle school teachers Sally Hannon and Sue Howe, along with other volunteers, organized the program about two years ago.

"There just were not many activities for middle-school students," Hannon said. She said community anti-drug abuse groups were also concerned that the more free time kids had, the more likely they were to fill it with drug use.

So with the help of grant money obtained through the Regional Partnership, Hannon and the others changed that.

They offered trips to Portland Sea Dogs and Pirates games, Funtown, the beach, the Royalty Athletic Club in Gorham, N.H., the Auburn Mall and Mt. Abram, in addition to a rafting trip on the Kennebec River.

The trips have averaged 30 to 40 teens and pre-teens from SAD44 towns. About 150 different kids have participated.

Glover went rafting -- an adrenalin rush, he said. His favorite trip, though, was to a Pirates game.

"I like hockey, and I'd never been to a live hockey game," he said.

Fellow-eighth-grader Nick Katlin particularly liked the Auburn Mall trip, and a Sea Dogs game.

"You paid a dollar (for the bus) and got good seats," he said. It was his first trip to see the Portland baseball team.

Asked what he'd be doing otherwise if the activities weren't available, Katlin replied, "Hanging out in town, causing trouble."

Seventh-grader Bobbie McKenna said it's nice to have "different things to do. You don't have to stay home and watch TV. I liked Funtown -- my mother went, too," she said.

One parent volunteer cited an October 1995 Time magazine article as evidence that the need for directed activities among young teens is not peculiar to the Bethel area.

"Ten- to 14-year-olds are being abandoned by their governments, communities, schools and parents just when they most need guidance and support," the article said. "Seventy-five percent of the parents of nine-year-olds claim high or medium involvement (with their children), while only 55 percent of the parents of 14-year-olds do."

A program expansion that would increase parent involvement is in the planning stages.

"Safe Hangout Homes" would have parents provide activities -- some as basic as offering movies on video to a group of four or five kids -- in their homes.

Hannon hopes the program can get underway within a couple of months.

She said the volunteers have also been talking with Mt. Abram owner Rick Hoddinott about regularly using his lodge for winter activities in the future.

A place to gather

A spin-off program of Safe Hangouts already in place is the Safe Gathering Place, in the rear of the Methodist Church in Bethel.

With a loaned ping-pong table and two computers available, kids can relax, play games, or do homework if they want. The center is open Monday through Friday

Bethel finances:

New truck is out, PD stays

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Three major Public-Works-Department capital investments fell by the wayside Monday, as Bethel's Budget Committee and Board of Selectmen strove to hold the projected town-budget increase to under 2 percent.

Gone from the Capital Improvement Plan for FY '97 are: $65,000 for a highway truck with plow, to replace the current 1980 GMC; $25,000 for a street sweeper with vacuum; and an additional $10,000 for road improvements.

The three cuts were in themselves more than enough to bring the budget in under the 2 percent goal.

If the rest of the operational portion of the budget is approved as proposed, the town budget figure to go to voters for FY '97 will be $1,376,947, up approximately one-third of 1 percent from the current budget of $1,372,817.

Brown's jobless pay contested

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Bethel Town Manager Madeleine Henley is attempting to stop former town clerk Merton Brown from collecting further unemployment compensation.

Henley fired Brown in January, citing his conviction on a New Hampshire shoplifting charge and alleged instances of dishonesty in his office work.

Last month, however, a state unemployment examiner ruled Brown had been fired for the shoplifting incident, not anything he did at work.

Based on that ruling, he was awarded unemployment compensation.

Immediately following the decision, Henley said she had no plans for an appeal, but Monday she said the town will file a legal challenge.

Asked why, Henley said it was a matter of perception: "For the fact finder to say (Brown) didn't get fired for anything he did at work would leave an unfair impression."

She said the town's attorney had recommended the appeal and agreed to handle it at no further charge to the town.

Bob Chadbourne, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, said the decision to proceed with the appeal was made by Henley, with his concurrence. There was no formal selectmen's vote on the matter, Chadbourne said.

The town does not pay Brown's compensation, but its unemployment

Briefly

Fryeburg fairgrounds expanding

FRYEBURG--Fryeburg Fair Trustees recently adopted a $200,000 capital improvement program, to be completed over the summer in preparation for the Sept. 29-Oct. 6 Blue Ribbon Classic. The trustees unanimously approved a package that included spending $90,000 for a large addition to the craft center, $40,000 for housing for service personnel and $12,000 for a new hub rail for the half-mile race track. The expansion of the craft center will add 35 exhibitors to the three dozen that filled the building last year. The service dormitory will accommodate two dozen people and include bathrooms and a kitchen.

Woodstock may sell property

WOODSTOCK--Selectmen decided last week to look at and assess the value of a 45-acre parcel of tax-acquired property before they put it up for sale. Town Manager Vern Maxfield said the land is off the Koskela Road and was owned by Thomas Hurley of Charlestown, Mass. since 1988. The wooded lot is steep, has no right of way for accessing and has no buildings. Maxfield said the taxes are about $250 a year. With interest and other costs, the town is owed about $1,000 for the past three years. Maxfield said Hurley has been notified many times that the town would foreclose, but has not responded.

Police find dog uncooperative

RUMFORD--Local police responded to an unusual call Thursday afternoon -- "Car blocking intersection of Congress and Bridge streets, dog at the wheel." The dog had knocked the car's gearshift into neutral, and the vehicle had drifted from a parking spot into the intersection, according to officer F. David Bean. Reports that he had arrested the dog for operating without a license were not true, Bean said. But, he added, the dog was uncooperative and unable to produce the registration.

New boating laws

AUGUSTA--Two recent changes in state boating laws will affect boaters on Maine waters this year. Children 10 or younger must wear a life jacket at all times in any watercraft (this law took effect last year). But contrary to some public misconceptions, there is no law requiring adult boaters to wear life jackets. Although the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife encourages the wearing of personal flotation devices, the choice rests with the adult boater. Boat cushions are no longer legal flotation devices, beginning this year. Boaters on tidal and coastal waters are required to have wearable life jackets aboard for all passengers.

Deer harvest up

AUGUSTA--Despite less than desirable hunting conditions at the beginning of the November deer season, Maine's 1995 deer kill was well ahead of the predicted harvest. The official harvest count for the 1995 season was 27,384. Last fall saw the third largest buck harvest in Maine history. The figure represents an 11 percent increase over the 1994 deer harvest. "This is a welcome change," said Gerry Lavigne, DIFW deer biologist. "It means that the population has rebounded strongly." Lavigne said that mild wintering conditions coupled with several years of rather conservative doe harvests have set the stage for a strong deer recovery, particularly in central and southern Maine.

Snowmobile task force to meet

AUGUSTA--The initial meeting of a task force set up to look at snowmobile safety is slated for April 22. The Maine Snowmobiler Association's task force was requested by the governor in response to a record number of fatalities (12) this season. Agenda items will include review of laws, trail safety checks, safety signage and promotion, adult and youth safety education and club participation. The task force will release a final report and recommendations in September. For more information call 622-6983.

State gets 43 new state troopers

AUGUSTA--The ranks of the Maine State Police increased by 43 Friday at a ceremony in which Gov. Angus King praised the new troopers as being among the best educated and most experienced to receive the badge. The ceremony at the Augusta Civic Center marked the troopers' completion of 23 weeks of study at the Maine Criminal Justice Academy in Waterville. The new troopers, who report to their assignments April 22, bring the size of the force to 318. The governor said 24 of the new troopers are college graduates, 23 have previous law enforcement experience and 19 have a military background, including two pilots. During the past 5 1/2 months, the new troopers completed 1,100 hours of training.

More women entrepreneurs in Maine

PORTLAND--Women employ nearly 92,000 people -- about 30 percent of the state's workers -- and ring up annual sales of $10.23 billion, according to a new study. A study by the National Foundation for Women Business Owners estimates that 48,000 businesses in Maine are owned by women, an increase of 37 percent since the Census Bureau's last survey, conducted in 1992. Small Business Administration spokesman Maurice Dube said officials were staggered by the demand for a new women's pre-qualification loan program. The program allows women to get technical assistance and guarantees for loans of up to $250,000. As of the end of February, 52 women had borrowed $5.2 million from Maine banks using SBA guarantees. That makes the Augusta SBA office the third busiest of the sites nationally that are piloting the program -- busier even than larger SBA offices such as Philadelphia and New Orleans.

Environmentalists want user fees

PINKHAM NOTCH, N.H.--A Colorado environmental group wants cross-country skiers, hikers and others who use the White Mountain National Forest to pay for its protection. The Biodiversity Legal Foundation of Boulder concludes the only way to curb damage to the mountain environment is to limit the number of visitors. It wants visitors to pay mandatory fees to underwrite wilderness protection plans. The fees are proposed in a report that focuses on the Appalachian Mountain Club's use of the national forest. The 53-page report demands the club's permit to operate in the White Mountain National Forest undergo the strictest environmental test possible. The club's 30-year permit expired last year and has been extended temporarily while the Forest Service considers renewing a long-term agreement. A club spokesman said it's up to the Forest Service to decide what the review process should be, and the club will comply with the service's requests.

Madison expansion delayed

MADISON--Madison Paper Industries' plan for a $500 million expansion at its mill along the Kennebec River has been taken off the fast track, a company official said. The central Maine papermaker said recently that it missed an opportunity to expand this year, but emphasized that the project is still viable. A spokesman said the timetable for the project has been set back because of market forces. A slowdown in advertising has dampened the demand for paper that would be produced by the expanded mill. The project would make Madison North America's largest producer of supercalendered paper, which is used for glossy advertising inserts, retail catalogues and magazines. Initial plans called for the 18-month project to be completed in the summer of 1997, but the company says the target date cannot be met.

New jobs in manufacturing

What kind of jobs will Americans have by the year 2005? The U.S. economy will create 16.5 million jobs that don't exist now. Three out of 10 of those new jobs will be in the manufacturing industries -- but to get them will demand modern skills: the ability to work computer-controlled machinery; a welder's certificate; advanced training in tool and die making. Among the sectors where jobs gains are expected to be greatest are plastic products, 10,000; commercial printing and business forms, 7,000; meat products, 5,700; and pharmaceuticals, 5,500.

MIDDLE SCHOOL TALENT--Two Telstar Middle School students recently qualified for academic programs conducted by the Center for Talented Youth of The Johns Hopkins University. Sheryl Westleigh of Albany and Marianne Nadeau of Locke Mills received notification of their eligibility due to their SAT scores as seventh-graders. The girls scored equal to or above the average college-bound senior, on the same test taken by the high school students. Westleigh is shown above with her mother, Sally (left), and writing teacher Suzanne Taylor.

From the Bethel Police log:
Man's cleanliness is revealing

On April 13 at 6:37 p.m. a Vernon Street resident reported seeing a man sitting on the railroad trestle near his residence. He said the man appeared to be naked and washing clothes, and could be seen in the area off and on for over two hours. At 8 p.m. police and an Oxford County deputy walked down the tracks to the area in question. A search of the trestle and surrounding woods was conducted, but the man had apparently left.

Also on April 13
At 1:10 a.m. police assisted an Oxford County deputy in arresting Chet Garrison of Rumford (no birthdate given) for criminal threatening with a weapon. The incident had occurred at Sunday River. The arrest was made on Elm Street.

At 10:30 p.m. a Railroad Street resident reported that for the past two nights the Sunday River train had been parked idling in front of his residence. He said that for the winter the train usually was parked near the overpass, where it caused no problems. Police told the complainant they would try to contact someone to see if the train could be moved. At 1:15 a.m. police were told the train's engineer could not move it during the night, but he would be advised of the normal parking location in the morning.

At 10:46 p.m. a Chandler Hill Road resident reported a domestic incident between herself and her husband. The officer met with the woman, who said the couple had been involved in an argument and her husband had pushed her. She did not want to press charges. She said her husband had left the residence just prior to the officer's arrival. The officer tried to talk the husband, who was apparently intoxicated, out of the woods without success. The officer then advised the woman to spend the night with relatives. No further contact was made with the husband throughout the night.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log, but does not include all reports of police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies. An answering machine takes calls when an officer is not in the office.

The current department, according to Town Manager Elaine Henley, is the similarity in cost and somewhat reduced level of service (1500 fewer hours per year) that the county contract would provide. The budgeters voted in effect to stick with the present arrangement.

Board members are expected to conduct a site inspection next week, before considering Parsons' proposal further.

VA dividend-hoax warning

Once again, a VA insurance dividend hoax is being circulated across the state. The hoax typically offers a dividend for each $1,000 of GI insurance which was in force during service periods or for the number of years of service.

The hoax is refuted by the mysterious distribution of "applications," often poorly reproduced, and most often directed to the VA Insurance Center in Philadelphia. Occasionally the hoax appears in newspapers or newsletters. It has also been received through fax machines.

Veterans are usually encouraged to pass the information along to other veterans. The bogus applications may also claim that Congress has passed a law authorizing the dividends. There has been no such action nor is there any pending.

The dividend hoax should not be confused with regular insurance dividends, which are distributed by VA to active policy holders on the anniversary date of their policies. This dividend does not require an application.

Prior to filing any form of dividend claim, veterans may wish to check with a counselor at the Togus VA Center. VA counselors may be reached by toll-free telephone numbers anywhere in Maine, weekdays from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Veterans who reside in the Augusta area should call 623-8000. Calls from the rest of Maine may be made by dialing 1-800-827-1000.

Mundt-Allen Auxiliary

Mundt-Allen Post 81 and Auxiliary met at the Legion Hall on Tuesday evening, April 9, for the regular meeting and potluck supper.

The auxiliary voted on many items, including raising money to sponsor the Children Awareness Day being held in Washington, D.C. on June 1.

A "thank you" letter from Victoria Coolidge was read. We helped sponsor her for the Miss Maine Teen Pageant.

Officers were elected for 1996 as follows: president, Arlene Bean; 1st vice, Jane Rolfe; second vice, Donna Taylor; secretary-treasurer, Mona Lowe; chaplain, Pauline Wieden; historian, Mona Lowe; sgt.-at-arms, Wanda Buswell. Installation will be joint with the Post on May 14, with a roast beef supper planned.

Mrs. Jane Rolfe is the poppy chairperson and Miss Poppy will be chosen from the first grade at Crescent Park.

Delegates and alternates were chosen for the state convention, which is being held at Sunday River this June. We voted on dues increase for 1997.

On the sick list is Betty Perkins. She has injured her back and would like to hear from members and friends.

Canoe ramp

and make some provision for ensuring its future maintenance.

"The state has the money but not the people power," he said. Members of the trails group responded by voting unanimously last week to offer their expertise and labor, but only if the town would agree to take over the long-term maintenance of the ramp. Also, since the ramp would be located on town property, the town would have to be the agency that formally applies for the construction funds.

See little support for recreation

"We'll put it together and get it rolling," said Joe Aloisio, the engineer for Sunday River Ski Resort, "but (the town) has to commit to maintaining it."

And that's what worried the group members, given what they viewed as the half-hearted support the town of Bethel, at least at the official level, has shown for efforts to encourage recreational development.

"I think it's time for the town of Bethel to pull its weight for recreation -- essentially they've done nothing for years," said Tom Remington, a member of Friends of the Androscoggin and manager of the Riverview Motel.

It is too late in this year's budget process to request funding for FY '97 (which begins June 1). Accordingly, the group agreed to accept responsibility themselves for maintaining the site for the first year.

As to the cost of maintaining the canoe ramp, it would be small, Remington said, "and I think the taxpayers of this town would be more than willing to do that."

Remington also suggested the trails group should push to have next year's budget break out a separate category for the maintenance of recreational facilities -- especially since such facilities have become increasingly important to the town's economy.

Maintenance for Davis Park currently comes out of the town's Fountains, Parks and Cemeteries Account. The only other recreational facility maintained by the town is the winter skating rink on the common, also funded out of this account.

There appeared to be general agreement among the dozen or so members in attendance last week that the town has put little effort into its commitment to maintain Davis Park -- which, like the proposed boat ramp, was the product of a volunteer effort.

"Davis Park is maintained to a level that is just slightly better than an eyesore," Remington said.

No one disagreed.

Next, back to the selectmen

Polak had described the project in broad terms at an earlier meeting of the Bethel Board of Selectmen.

The board did not discourage the idea, but concern was expressed about who would bear the long-term cost of maintaining a ramp.

Polak said he will now return to the selectmen with the trails group's proposal.

Greenwood City

On this date, April 8, most of the ice has gone from the pond. It makes me think of some lines written by Henry Thoreau, only he told of a lake instead of a pond. "A lake is the landscape's most beautiful and expressive feature."

When I look at the pond I think of it as an eye of the earth. The trees along the shore are the eyelashes, which fringe it. Look at a distance, back from the shore and you can find the eyebrows, the wooded hills and the cliffs overhanging. The hills are mute, but they speak of God, for all these things are His hand works.

Snow just gave us another visit. It has rounded out the adventure of the year. We have heard all the voices of the cold: the icy whisper of sleet on leaves and windows, the creaking squeal of snow underfoot, when it's a zero morning. We have experienced the December sunshine, stars in long evenings and the gray leafless trees. All these we remember about winter. We were also aware of beauty in the fallen snow, heard sounds and experienced things that hibernators did not, and the migrants to the far South never know.

Some of us would regret losing these things that they miss.

Everyone here looks forward to spring and so do I. But I like each season in its turn, and I'm glad for the changes. Soon, spring will return with delicate new leaves bordering the winding brooks.

We will say, "Good morning...and a good day today!"

Rena Curtis had 18 members of her family at her home for Easter dinner. Her granddaughter, Cindy Thurlow and husband of Freeport, came for a visit during the week.

Ann Holt had her father and mother, her brother David, Sally and Mary Holt and me at her home on Easter Sunday.

My nieces Maud Culleton and Maxine Leighton visited Rena and me on Tuesday.

Call to Easter Sunday Worship was held at the Newry Community Church April 7, with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the Pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. The message of the day was, "Believest thou this?" from St. Peter 1:8. "Whom having not seen, ye love: in whom though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of Glory." Also, a poem, "The Legend of the Dogwood Tree," was read by Gil Seeley.

Polly Mahoney and Kevin Slater of the Mahosuc Mountain Adventures and yours truly were Easter Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bachelier. Later they went to Polly and Kevin's residence for supper. I came home and had a nap instead!

The Community Church had their yearly business meeting Monday night at 6 p.m. with Owen Wight as moderator. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Pastor Rodney Hanscom. Secretary Freda Robertson read the notes of the last meeting, etc. Treasurer Sylvia Wight brought the finances up to date. The same officers were re-elected. The trustees are Sylvia Wight, Owen Wight and Gilbert Seeley, with Bill Wight as assistant. Plans were made for a Memorial Day celebration, and the yearly church picnic date is August 18. The officers were sworn in and the meeting adjourned.

The Newry Mothers Club held their meeting Monday night at 7:30 p.m. at the Town Building with substitute president Karlene Bachelier and Gil Seeley. A prayer was read at the opening and secretary-treasurer Olive Anderson had the roll call and brought the finances up to date, reported on cards sent to shut-ins, etc. and took care of the bills. It was voted to have a mother/daughter potluck supper at the next meeting at the Grange Hall on May 13 at 6 p.m. More on this later. It was also voted to go to the Town & Country Inn for the Annual Banquet on June 10. Also, more on this later.

Catherine Newell, director of the Adult Education, spoke on the advantage of learning extra skills, etc. She spoke on how the program had changed and improved during the last decade, with new programs to keep up with the world's new technology. Coffee was enjoyed and more conversation followed.

Well, there was no bowling this week because of the stormy weather. So, let's talk about animals. Did you read about the mother cat who rescued her five little kittens from a burning building, one by one, touching each one with her nose to make sure they were all safe? It shows that with all creatures, animals or people, there is no way of measuring a mother's love. Now a story about the dog who was hit by a car and found his way, a mile away, to the veterinarian. (He knew where to go because he had been there for his shots in the past.) "Animals are such agreeable friends, they ask no questions, pass no criticisms. If it were not for my cat or dog, I think I could not live," said Ebenezer Elliot. There is in every animal's eye, a dim image and gleam of humanity, a flash of strange light through which their life looks out and up to our great claims the fellowship of the creature if not of the soul.

Briefly -- Do you suppose the comet Hyakutake had something to do with that crazy snowstorm we had last week? It could have stirred up enough atmosphere to cause disturbances. I sure think so.

Portland the day of the bad storm. They make it OK, but said there were many cars off the road and it was real slippery.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Emma Billings. Emma worked at Cooper's vegetable stand for many years and was always pleasant with a quick smile. We will miss her. Sympathy goes out to her family and friends.

Sympathy, also, goes to the family of Gerald W. Walker. Mr. Walker had many brothers and sisters and a wife and children. He will be missed.

Lisa Mack's father, Vern Farrar is a patient in the Veteran's hospital in Boston. He has been there for a while. Lisa and Ricky Mack have been making trips to Boston quite often since he has been there.

Vicky Hill had a hospital stay in a Portland hospital this week, but is now home. Vicky and Ron Hill both celebrated their birthdays on April 10.

Dallas Cole, son of Pam and Larry Poland, fell and broke his arm the day of the storm when there wasn't any school.

Megan Mack is on an overnight trip to Boston Museum with the Girl Scouts. Megan's mother Lisa went along as a chaperon. They always have a good time on these trips.

Woodstock Elementary School had grandparents' day this week. Claribel Poland a great-grandmother, and Donna Koshiba, a grandmother, along with many other proud grandparents made it to the program and visited with the children.

Teresa and Mike Nadeau have returned home from Florida. While there, they called on Leifani Bertram and her family. They enjoyed a cookout with many of the friends there.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson

Hi readers: Once again it's time for news of Stoneham. Since last week, the Planning Board met on April 3 to discuss a few building permits, etc.

On Saturday, April 6, there was a very good turnout to the public benefit supper at the Stoneham Fire Station. It was a good supper, well organized and for a good cause.

On Easter Sunday there was a good number of people at church services, which is good and we hope to see more people more often there. Church services will be at the North Waterford Church during the month of April.

On Tuesday, April 9, the Oxford County Republicans met at the East Stoneham Congregational Church for their regular meeting, with the 7 p.m. supper hosted by the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Hannah F. Richardson Tent 19. This is one of their annual fund raisers.

Oxford County Republican Committee Chairman Stan Howe led the members with a salute to the flag, and the Rev. Norman Rust gave the prayer. There were over 40 people in attendance and everyone agreed that it was a good supper and meeting. We met many old and new friends there. There were several speakers of the evening, which included candidates Eleanor Tracey, John Underwood, Vic Hodgkins, County Commissioner Steve Merrill, also words from Sen. Norman Ferguson and Rep. Tom Winsor, and representative for Bob Monks. The meeting closed about 9 p.m. and the next one will be May 14 in Norway.

On Tuesday, April 9, the Stoneham Knight Riders met at the Stoneham Fire Department meeting room with 13 members present. Officers elected at this meeting are president, Eben Harmon; vice president, Bill Hunt; secretary, Terry Nichols; treasurer, Cindy Fox. The outgoing officers should be commended for the fine work they have done for the club during the past years and congratulations to the new officers.

We saw two fat robins hopping around on the front lawn right next to the windows yesterday. They were finding something from the ground. Today, Wednesday, we are getting that wet snow and wind that was predicted. It looks like winter instead of spring. It's a good day to catch up on indoor jobs.

Saturday, April 6, Grace Nelson was treated to breakfast, lunch and video movies by Dennis and Marjorie Farnsworth. I have yet to see the movie "Babe." I hear it is quite popular. It must certainly be better than seeing so much murder and killings, etc., shown on T.V. and in the papers, where that poor little cat had rubber bands wound around its neck. Some people don't seem to know anything decent, do they! I'm glad the cat was found, saved and treated by a vet. Why do some people do such cruel things?

I don't think I mentioned before that a former member of East Stoneham died unexpectedly on March 15 at his home town of Norridgewock. Our sympathy goes out to the family of Ervil L. Curtis Jr. He was the son of Ervil L. and Catherine (Littlefield) Curtis Sr. of East Stoneham. He was married to the former Ruth E. Bennett of Bethel and was predeceased by one brother, Alton Curtis of Rockland.

The Good News Club Easter Party will be held at the Baptist Church Annex at 6 p.m.,

Thursday, April 18. Judith Grover Tent 17, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War met on Tuesday, April 9, at the Grange Hall for a regular meeting. Thirteen members were present. Plans were made for the Craft, Food and Flea Market sale on Saturday, May 18. There was discussion about Memorial Day plans. We are to order more flags. Helvi Cary read a very interesting article on Joshua Chamberlain. The next meeting will be Tuesday, May 14, with Sally Sawyer and Elsie Bonney on refreshments. Thirty-two calls were reported. Sick members were reported on. Refreshments were served by Helvi and Michelle Cary.

Beatrice Farnum and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoyt were Easter dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Chase. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. David Crockett, Ray and Shawn; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevens; Keith, Jennifer, Daniel; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Chase, Liza and Cal; Crystal Chase; Aric Beane and Helen Chase.

Sympathy is extended to the families of Gerald Walker, Emma Billings and Esther Pierce. The Bryant Pond Historical Society brings together interested people and interesting things. The society is a very active group for a town the size of Woodstock. Many visitors have commented favorably on the quality of the society's museum and collections. They are due to the dedication of its members and broad community support.

High Street

West Paris by Russell Yates

Howdy friends, the weather report sounds like we're in for another dismal day, but I'm sure that spring is here as I have my first cold of the winter. It started with a sore throat, but I soon cured that with an old-time remedy of equal parts of honey and lemon juice, taken occasionally by the teaspoonful.

Don't forget the Craft, Food and White Elephant Sale to be held at the West Paris Grange Hall, May 11, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Table rental is $3 each, and many have already been reserved. To reserve tables, contact Peggy Blake at 674-3872 or Mary Lovejoy at 674-2147. The Cookie Walk will be featured again at this sale. Refreshments will be on sale. Come join the crowd.

Impi and Raymond Mack were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Heikinen at Howe's Corner in Turner.

At the present time, I have no knowledge of any dances at either West Paris or Locke Mills on the third Saturday.

Last Monday forenoon, Peggy had to go to South Paris to take care of errands and I made my cherry-nut cake, for judging at Grange, while she was gone. I used a different recipe this time, and even though it was April Fool's Day, it was okay and turned out pretty good.

We attended Franklin Grange in the evening. We had several visitors from other Granges, but two youth leaders, that were expected to come and help on the program, just never showed up for some reason. When it came to the cake judging, Dot Canwell from Oxford got first prize for the ladies, and since I was the only man to make a cake, I got first place for the men. Now we will both have to make another cherry-nut cake to be judged at the Pomona level in May.

The weather turned fair later in the day on Tuesday, and we attended Oxford Pomona Grange, which was also held at Franklin Grange in Bryant Pond, with 41 supper tickets sold. State Grange Master Clyde Berry and State Grange Treasurer Shirley Geyer were with us for this Pomona meeting as Brother Geyer was picked to inspect our Pomona. We had to confer the Pomona Degree and since we had no candidates, Brother Geyer, also State Grange Deputy and Connie Tuttle from Dixfield, volunteered to take the place of the candidates. It was a good Pomona meeting.

It wasn't April Fool's Day on Wednesday, but we woke up to problems. We had no heat and no water, other than some we keep on hand all of the time. We heated water on the gas range for what we needed. After breakfast, I called Gendron Oil Company, and one of their technicians came about 10:30 a.m. He soon learned that the reason our furnace wouldn't run was electrical, and after he changed some wires to different places in the power box, we had heat. The electrician soon learned that we had a break in the cable running from the mobile home to the electrical light pole, so we would need a new cable. He didn't have enough cable with him to do the job, so he would return Thursday to finish the job. He did run a wire so that the water pump would work. When he came on Thursday, Peggy and I had the old cable all dug up ready for him. When he went to make his connections under the meter box, he found that the weather and old age had badly corroded areas, so he couldn't tighten the connections, and that also needed replacing. This was nothing that he carried, so he had to come again on Friday.

Woodstock

Leon and Rosalie Poland have returned home from a vacation in Florida. While there, their daughter and family and Bert Bertram and family were there. It was a good time for everyone. The robins think that it's spring.

Women's rights activist to speak

On Thursday, April 25, women's rights activist Vivian Stromberg will speak to Gould Academy social studies students and members of the community about her 35 years of work in the peace and justice movement.

Stromberg is a founding board member and executive director of MADRE, a 20,000-member national women's organization dedicated to the long-term economic and social development and political empowerment of women. MADRE, which means "mother" in Spanish, has delivered over $6 million in medical and educational equipment, supplies, programs and services to women and children in various parts of the world including Central America, the Caribbean, the Middle East, the former Yugoslavia, and the United States.

Stromberg will speak in the Presentation Room in Holden Hall at 7:30 p.m. Admission to her presentation is free and the public is encouraged to attend.

From the
Bethel Bicentennial Committee

By JIM ROSE

During Bethel's Bicentennial Week the Bethel Area Task Force and NTL Institute will sponsor a lawn party to celebrate the history shared between the Bethel and NTL communities. The event will be on the front lawn of the NTL Founders House (Gehring House), Tuesday, June 11 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. This is a wonderful opportunity for anyone who would like to understand more about the long, fruitful association between town and institute. An afternoon of sharing history, music and fellowship is planned by the Bethel Area Task Force and is open to all.

As part of this celebration, the Bethel Area Task Force is collecting letters from individuals who have participated in an NTL sponsored activity and are willing to write briefly about their experiences. This could include participation in a Human Interaction Lab or any other lab, Sunrise Seminars, focus groups preparing for a Bethel Community Conference, the conferences themselves, Telstar/Gould Leadership programs and housing or feeding past NTL participants.

We are also seeking letters from NTL participants living throughout the United States and abroad. The collected letters will be compiled and presented to the Bethel Historical Society as an example of the widespread effect of the NTL Bethel experience.

Interested contributors can send their letters to Kathi Schandehneier or Barbara Brown, c/o NTL Institute, P.O. Box 359, Bethel, ME 04217.

BUILD A BLUEBIRD HOUSE

The Oxford County Cooperative Extension will offer a hands-on workshop on building bluebird houses at 1 p.m. on Sunday, May 5, from a local Extension Office in South Bethel.

The instructor, a local forest warden, will discuss the importance of bluebirds in the ecosystem with a focus on their habits, covering such topics as where they eat, where they live, and what can be done to enhance your landscape to attract them.

After the slide show, everyone will be given the opportunity to build a bluebird house. Cost of the workshop is $12, which covers the cost of the materials. Each participant is asked to bring their own hammer. Pre-registration is required by calling 743-6329 or 1-800-287-5212.

GREENWOOD HISTORICAL

The Greenwood Historical Society held its regular meeting Wednesday, April 3 with President Joan Kimball presiding. There were 13 members present.

Since the last meeting in March, the society has lost another life member by the death of Kenneth Daicy of Portland. He was the grandson of the late Decatur and Angie (Martin) Cross who were residents on the Howe Hill road. His mother, life member Vivian (Cross) Daicy left this area at the age of 11 in 1923 to live with an aunt in Portland after the deaths of her parents.

During the meeting, a letter to the society was read from life member E. Keene Swan of Foster City, Calif. Members who know him were pleased to hear from him, and to hear what he is doing now.

A donation of a painting was received from Carole (Martin) Silsby of Eliot. The painting, "The Old Man of the Mountains," was done by her uncle, Glenn Martin, and had been given to her late parents, Dwight and Tessie Martin.

The society bought the new book about the Richardson Lakes by Randy Bennett.

It was reported at the meeting that $910 had been received for the endowment fund.

Refreshments were served by Vera Cross and Edith Morey. Joan Kimball volunteered to furnish them for the May meeting. No plans have been made at the present time for entertainment for the next meeting. At this meeting a few spoke about their experiences during the 1936 flood.

HOME IMPROVEMENT AND REPAIR LOANS/GRANTS

Funds are currently available under the Section 504 Rural Housing Loan and Grant Program.

The Section 504 Loan and Grant Program is to assist eligible, very low income, owner/occupants repair single-family homes located in rural areas. Repairs may be made to improve or modernize homes, to make homes safer and more sanitary, or to remove health and safety hazards.

Grants are only available for repairs that remove health and safety hazards and to applicant(s) 62 years of age or older. Homes repaired with Section 504 loan and grant funds must be modest in size and design. Loan and grant purposes include, but are not limited to, water supplies, sewage disposal systems, insulation, storm windows and doors, heating systems, electrical wiring, repair or replacement of roof and siding, and repairs to make homes accessible for people with disabilities.

For further information contact the local Rural Economic and Community Development office.

Maine Chamber Ensemble

The Mahosuc Arts Council will support the Maine Music Society's Fifth Anniversary Concert Season by presenting the Maine Chamber Ensemble in concert on Friday, April 19. The performance begins at 7:30 p.m. in Bingham Auditorium at Gould Academy in Bethel. This special evening of music is being made possible by support from the family of Leslie B. Otten, the Bethel Inn and Country Club, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Meara, Elizabeth Winsor, Will and Marguerite Graham, McDonald's/LeClerc Management Co., Hardy, Wolf & Downing, Attorneys and the Maine Arts Commission.

Boston-based mezzo-soprano Gloria Raymond will appear as guest vocal soloist with the 30-member ensemble. She will perform Les Nuits d'Elie, ravishingly beautiful music by the great French Romantic, Hector Berlioz. The program will also include Mozart's most well known symphony, No. 40, in G minor. The Maine Chamber Ensemble is under the artistic direction of Peter Frewen.

The Maine Music Society supports the artistic and educational activities of the professional Maine Chamber Ensemble and the auditioned, mixed-voice Androscoggin Choral. Based in Lewiston-Auburn, the society brings its activities to rural Maine audiences in Oxford Hills, Farmington, the Capitol region, and other areas of central and western Maine.

Advanced ticket prices are adults, $8, and students, $4, or if purchased at the door, adults, $10, and students, $4. Tickets may be obtained at Preb's Pharmacy, Bethel or by calling 824-3575 for reservations.

Oliver Furbish Hooper, 95, died Monday, April 8, 1996, at Lodgeview Nursing Home, West Paris. Formerly of Massachusetts, he came to Maine in 1986, and had resided on Beal Street in Norway until going to the nursing home.

He was born in Lynn, Mass., July 21, 1900, the son of James Mason Hooper and the former Jennie Bird. He graduated from Lynn Classical

High School, Lynn, Mass., and from Massachusetts Agriculture College (now the University of Massachusetts) where he majored in and received his degree in botany and languages. He spoke five languages including fluent French, and was a member of Kappa-Gamma-Phi Fraternity. He then went on to Harvard University Graduate School of Design, where he received a degree in Landscape Architecture, Class of 1928. He was also a member of the Alumni Association and a member of the Harvard Topiarian Club.

During World War I, he served as a private with the U.S. Army.

From 1928-1929, he worked as a draftsman and designer at Fletcher Steel Landscape Architecture in Boston, Mass. From 1929-1932, he was self-employed in the landscape and nursery business, having established the Lexington Gardens. In 1934 he sold the business. From 1934 to 1946, he was an estimator and salesman with W.H. Hinman, Inc. of Skowhegan, and was also a draftsman surveyor for the Park Commission of Portland, and while there he designed the sign for the Baxter State Park Nature Trail and Bird Sanctuary. From 1946-1947, he was a greens keeper for Seaboard Estates and a draftsman designer for Olmsted Brothers in Brooklyn, Mass. From 1948-1965, he was a checker for the Raytheon Co. in Waltham, Mass., until his mandatory retirement, and then he worked for the Itel Corp. in Lexington, Mass., until 1970, when he decided to retire. He moved to Maine from Lexington in 1986.

He was a member of the Couples Club and the Men's Club of the First Parish Unitarian Universalist Church in Lexington; member of the Lexington Historical Society; Honorary member of the Lexington Arts & Crafts Woodworkers Guild; member of the Norway Historical Society; member of Western Maine Art Group, Norway. He was married in Lexington, Mass., on March 18, 1933 to the late Sally Smith, who died in Lexington, Mass., on March 6, 1984.

Survivors include one son, Oliver F. "Peter" Hooper Jr. of Fort Myers, Fla.; two daughters, Mrs. Wayne (Nancy) Penley of West Paris and Mrs. William (Betsy) Goss of Eliot; one sister, Mrs. Howard (Marjorie) Lawler of Port Charlotte, Fla., and Ossipee, N.H.; 10 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Graveside services will be held at the Monroe Cemetery, Lexington, Mass., 2 p.m. on Sunday, May 19, with the Rev. Helen Cohen officiating. Those who desire, please contribute to Stephens Memorial Hospital, Main Street, Norway, ME 04268, in his memory.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our thanks to all who shared in our sorrow.

Thank you for all the cards, food, spiritual benedictions, and love that was given to us.

We would also like to thank those who sent contributions to the American Heart Association in Gerald's Memory.

God Bless You All
Florence, Jeff, Judy & Family

A Note of Thanks

I just want to say, The world's a better place by far, because of people like you who take the time and do nice things the way Maine folk always do.

Your thoughtfulness and kindness during my recent illness is much appreciated.

I wish to thank the Franklin Grange and the American Legion Auxiliary and the many who attended the benefit, as well as the support of several people.

One never knows what can happen suddenly in life, but God is always there to see us through any problem or hardship.

And I thank him most for his untiring love. The Lord sure works in ways we can never imagine.

Thank you all from the bottom of my heart.

Mrs. Pierce was born in Woodstock on Aug. 4, 1901, daughter of the late Edward O. and Lucy (Crockett) Bean. She was educated in the Woodstock schools, graduating from Woodstock High School in 1922. She worked at Dudley Cottage and Christie Inn, Bryant Pond, until the buildings were destroyed by fire. She then worked at Stowell's Mill for a few years before moving to Norway in 1937, where she was employed at the B.E. Cole Shoe Factory and Francene Shoe Shop until her retirement in 1966. At that time she moved back to Bryant Pond where she resided until illness forced her confinement to a health care facility.

Mrs. Pierce attended the Norway Universalist Church, and while in Bryant Pond she attended the Universalist Church whenever able to do so. She was a charter member of the Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens and never missed a meeting until her illness. She was a former member of Franklin Grange 124 and Oxford Pomona Grange 2. She also held membership in the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, and the Elizabeth C. Blake Tent 8 of Norway. When not pursuing her favorite pastime of reading, she could be found knitting or crocheting items for family and friends.

Survivors include her sister-in-law, Evelyn T. Bean of Bryant Pond, who cared for her for many years, and several cousins. She was predeceased by two brothers, Clifton E. Bean of Rumford and Chester C. Bean of Bryant Pond.

Funeral services will be private and interment will be in Lakeside Cemetery, Bryant Pond. In lieu of flowers, friends may make contributions to Whitman Memorial Library, Bryant Pond, ME 04219.

A Tribute to Esther

Yes, you were my friend, my sister-in-law for many a year. What fun we did have, in our younger years when I came to Bryant Pond, the town I was to call home, after marrying your younger brother.

You were a jolly, fun loving person; and then in later years - a lady of good judgment and fine character. So proud of your home, after your faithful years of working in Norway. That you live by the side of the road - in summer watching the baseball games from your porch windows and you did know the names of all the players (although, the players may not know you were watching them, as your curtains were not up too high!) but you were there. When you were able, you kept your home, your yard spotless - then in later years, I did assist you in all ways, you wish me to do. Your faithful attendance as a charter member of the Senior Citizens of the town, you enjoyed all your friends, as your friends did you.

So I will have fond, tender loving memories of our many years. Yes, I'm sad - but know you are at rest and free from the suffering of the past few months.

Evelyn
